as one takes a look at a typical kindergarten program it is evident that the beliefs of many of the theorists have had an influence on how children are educated within the public school system